

Immunization Action Coalition of Washington

Member and Participant Code of Conduct

The Immunization Action Coalition of Washington (IACW) is dedicated to providing a friendly, safe, and welcoming environment for all members and participants regardless of gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, race, ethnicity, religion, or age. Diversity in all its forms is integral to our mission, which is to improve the health of the community by minimizing the incidence of vaccine-preventable diseases through the optimal use of immunizations across the lifespan.

The IACW is hosted and staffed by WithinReach, a private non-profit organization that makes the connections that families need to be healthy and safe by serving as a trusted link to critical resources and creating and advocating for innovative solutions that improve overall health and health equity.

Coalition members and participants agree to support this mission and strengthen immunization efforts in Washington State that are based on evidence-based guidance from the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP).

This code of conduct outlines our expectations for IACW member and participant behavior as well as the consequences for unacceptable behavior. All determinations of appropriate or inappropriate behavior are at the sole discretion of the IACW Executive Committee and WithinReach.
